

ABSTRACT

A method, computer program and system for producing a production schedule for a bakery. The method involves reducing dough wastage by calculating a weight of dough for each bakery product which falls short of a full batch and combining that weight for the various bakery products formed from the same dough type to form batches comprising a whole number of bags of flour.